The Earth and It's Energies

The Base Year

In this Chinese Astrology, the North Star system is the orchestrator and distributor of energies to the Earth. Western Astrology uses the Sun and planets as the distributors of energy, but another level is the North Star and it's surrounding stars which communicate with one another to collect energies that are then beamed back to Earth through the Sun (our local distributor). This figure shows The Base Year, a convention where these energies are first located before they start moving to different locations over a nine year period which cycles over and over.

The Wheels

The Base Year is shown on the top wheel of this page. It's the position where all the energies begin before they travel around the wheel to new position each year. When all 9 positions have been visited, the cycle repeats in the same order. Everyone is born into the center of the wheel which begins the cycle. The Base Year is what determines a persons base number (see figure 33). The top wheel also shows which Element relates to each Trigram, (Thunder and Wind relate to the Wood Element, Heaven and Lake relate to the Metal Element and so on). These Elements would be in the identical positions on each of the smaller wheels. All Wheels and years on this page are in left to right and top to bottom order.

To locate a Base Year Number, find the year of birth on this square, then look to the far left outside the square in the same row, and that's The Base Year Number. Use it with figure 32, (Energy Patterns on Planet Earth) to find the energetic influences.
